

When I chose to retire, country life appealed to me and so the search began. Fate brought me to East Peckham 14 years ago and now firmly ensconced in village life, I put my name forward for Parish Council because I love where I live. Presently a trustee of the Village Hall with the responsibility of Hall manager, I also help to run the local Table Tennis Club and I am on the committee of the East Peckham Magazine looking after the advertising section. At the same time, I liaise with the local newspapers informing them of village activities.
